FOREWORD

In the following pages, we, the BULL Staff, have endeavored to bring to you the true spirit of Johnson C. Smith University—our classes, activities, and fellowship here.

If in future years the pictures produced on these pages serve to recall pleasant memories then this yearbook will have accomplished its purpose.

DEDICATION

GREETINGS TO CLASS OF 1948

I am happy to extend greetings and good wishes to the members of the class of 1948. You represent potentialities for making a better world which is the obligation of every individual who has been blessed with the opportunity of rounding out a college education. I wish for you further opportunities for growth and for useful service.

It has been said that "Opportunity knocks but once." This is a philosophy of fatalism. Instead of looking upon opportunity as a door knocker, it seems to be more exact to say that opportunity is a DOOR.

As a door, opportunity may stand in three positions. The door may be wide open and can be entered with little effort. Again, the door may be shut, but not locked. A courageous try at the knob will result in its opening. Then, the door may be closed and locked. But there are encouraging signs that the key to the locked door may be had by the individual who is willing to fashion it for himself. Such a key cannot be bought at the locksmith's or the hardware store. It cannot be passed down from parent to child. It cannot be obtained through favor. It must be wrought out and shaped by the strenuous efforts, and guarded by the character, of the individual who would possess it.

Your Alma Mater has attempted to place at your disposal the materials, the ideals, and the guidance needed to fashion the key to some worthwhile door or doors of opportunity. Your Alma Mater shall strive to become increasingly strong as a place and environment in which youth may wrought out the key to the doors of opportunity.

Use your key unselfishly. Help others find the key to the door of opportunity. "Teach hope to all . . . despair to none." Your Alma Mater shall welcome your return to the campus at any time. I shall personally follow your careers with eager interest.

Very sincerely yours,
H. LISTON, President

ADVISER

DEAR SENIORS:

You are about to graduate from an institution with a noble tradition. You are about to enter the world where you will have many new and varied experiences. I hope the things you have learned here may enable you to adjust yourselves in the proper manner to life in this atomic world of ours. You will find this most difficult to do. I may say that few young people have been able in the last few years to do that, for as all know, one is not sure just what one will have to face tomorrow.

Remember that one should have certain guiding principles in these times. You may call this your philosophy of life if you so desire. Remember that you must make up your own mind about things. Decision is always better than indecision. Whether you go right or left may make a big difference but decide one way or the other.

I finally wish for you health, happiness, and prosperity in all you undertake. May the blessings of the Good Master be upon you always.

Your friend,

W. C. DONNELL, Adviser

DEAN OF THE UNIVERSITY

GREETINGS TO THE CLASS OF 1948:

First of all I should like to congratulate each one of you upon reaching this stage in your development. You are now about to take your places as active responsible members of society. Hundreds of men and women have gone out from the University before you, most of whom have set fitting examples for you to follow. We have alumni in all sections of the country and abroad doing their bit to make the world a better place in which to live. I could cite a long list of distinguished graduates who are carrying on in the various pursuits of life. However, may I remind you of one whom you have known rather intimately during your four years here. He is one who has been so close to you that you may not fully appreciate the wonderful example he has set for you. I have reference to our own President Emeritus, Henry Lawrence McCrorey, one of our most distinguished graduates.

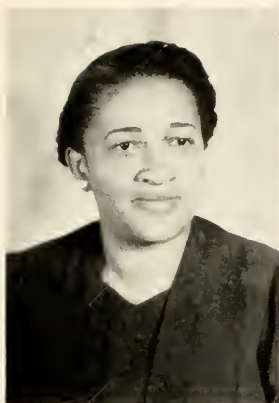

For fifty-two years, he labored here at the University working hard to make possible the privileges that you have enjoyed during the past four years. What he has done has not been blazoned on the headlines of our daily papers and magazines. He has not traveled across the country ostentatiously calling attention to his achievements, but on the contrary, he has gone about his work quietly and in a Christ-like spirit, yet with courage and confidence. Every year since his graduation from the University, more than a half century ago, has been spent in some constructive endeavor. Many of you sat through the beautiful Recognition Service held for him in early fall and have read the volume of letters which came in from all over the country praising his achievements through the years. If fifty years after graduation you can point with pride to the life that you have lived and the contributions that you have made as he can, then, you will measure up to the great heritage that has been left to you by the graduates who have gone on before. It is my hope that as you go forth you will take God as your guide and the Bible as your constant companion so that in the last years of your life, you too will enjoy the happiness and satisfaction that come from a rich and abundant life.

Sincerely,
T. E. McKINNEY, Dean

THE CLASS OF 1948

DEAR SENIORS:

That you will soon depart from these classic walls of Johnson C. Smith University gives me reason to write you this message. I hope that your lives have been enriched in all knowledge and wisdom and that you will go forth out of school-life into life's school girded for the strife.

The poet Browning once said, "Man should be equipped for life's struggles with culture of the mind." Four years you have studied to equip your minds for 'life's struggles.' I believe you have made a good job of it, and I rejoice with you because of your attainment. We shall greatly miss you when you are gone, although others will take your vacant seats.

I need not tell you the world into which you are going is torn and embittered. Not only does hatred in its vilest form exist between the races, but countries that fought together in World Wars I and II, for a common cause of democracy, have fallen apart and are now grappling at each other's throats.

The world's economic and social orders have collapsed. Old foundations of civilization that once seemed stable have been heaved and broken. Men and nations are confused and bewildered. Even leaders of the United Nations give us the impression that they do not know the way.

You stand at the crossroads. I ask you the trite question, 'where do you go from here?' No doubt that is a great unanswered question in your minds. Where you may go I little care, but I am greatly concerned that where you go, you will illustrate your lives as on old life of great meaning once did, whose brief biography is summarized in 'Holy Writ.' I quote it, "David served his own generation by the will of God." Let us change the sentence. Put the personal pronoun I for David, and mine for his, and make it more personal, "I will serve mine own generation by the will of God." That is my motto, I pass it on to you.

To redeem this sinning world from the awful mess it has gotten itself into, there must be a great uprising of young college men and women who will become missionaries, prophets, and apostles of peace with great social, ethical, and spiritual outlook who will go forth and interpret the facts of our day and generation in terms which will command the attention and following of the masses of mankind.

I am further concerned that you as loyal alumni of your Alma Mater, will strive "by the will of God" to make her a greater and

THE SENIORS OF '48

Another milestone has been reached in your career. Many of the hopes and dreams that you have held dear for the past four years are beginning to open up into new avenues.

In a few days you will be leaving the walls of this institution to go out into a world that needs you. A world that needs you to help reclaim it from its war torn thoughts and ideas and to rebuild it for stronger character and greater womanhood. As you go out into this new avenue, may you render to your fellowmen the services that have been rendered to you.

Many responsibilities will come and these must be met with courage, honesty, and faith. Regard it as your duty to reclaim your unfortunate brother and sister and set their destiny aright.

The challenge is greater today than ever before. The world has undergone many changes but the standard of character and womanhood have never changed. It is left to each individual to see that they remain so.

As you go forth into the fields of life, may a major purpose be to serve wherever you are and to lift as you climb.

Very sincerely yours,

C. L. RAMSFUR, Dean of Women

better university in sending her radiant rays of scholarship, character, and goodwill into every nook and corner of the world, to Christianize the impact of our western civilization upon a non-Christian world.

You are challenged to apply the principles of righteousness to the great energies of industry, finance, and commerce of the world, and wield them in the interest of building a new and more stable economic and social order.

Dr. Robert E. Speers, a great missionary, tells of an inscription he read on the walls of a little Taoist Temple high on a hill above a city in China, "where there is an earnest beseeching there will be a sure reply." As I write my last and only message to you, that inscription becomes more real to me. I wonder if you will make a sure and adequate reply to the beseeching of this weeping world.

Finally, my fellow students, be strong and courageous. Make your lives fruitful, and when the going gets tough, as it surely will, do not lose faith, but gird your loins a little tighter and make a go of it. Therefore, I entreat you to accept the challenge "by the will of God."

Farewell,

J. A. GRIMES, Dean of Men.

TO THE SENIORS:

I am happy to have this opportunity to greet you, the members of the graduating class of 1948. It is quite possible that no other group of young people in history has gone out into a world which demanded as much of them as your world demands of you. The harnessing of atomic energy for destruction has created a world which is surcharged with possibilities. It is a world which either tantalizes man into seeking some escape from the stern realities of life or urges him forward in search of a more promising path to salvation. However, it is yet to be proven that man's spiritual resources have been cultivated to the point where he can make the proper use of them in unifying the nations and races of the world under a common ideal great enough to embrace the efforts of all men. Even so, man has seldom, if ever, been faced with the urgency of so comprehensive a need for all of his potentialities to be converted into forces of good with the same genius and effort with which they were developed for destruction.

The challenge before you, therefore, is to carry to that world a kind of leadership which will focus the powers of the earth into channels leading to the oneness of humanity, to a higher plane of living, to the relief of human suffering—physical and mental, and to a deeper meaning of life. Whatever contribution you may make to society, you must remember that today as never before, it must be measured in the light of eternity. For the period in which we live is not one which belongs to any one age; it is rather, one which will serve as a focal point for determining the future of the human race.

With a well-disciplined self, with a keen sense of world relatedness, with an unswerving desire to serve your fellowman, with unfaltering faith in the principles of democracy, and with supreme loyalty to the God of the universe, you must forever strive for the more abundant life.

My congratulations to each one of you.

Cordially yours,
MOSES S. BELTON

THE MEMBERS OF THE SENIOR CLASS OF '48

MY DEAR MEMBERS OF THE CLASS OF '48:

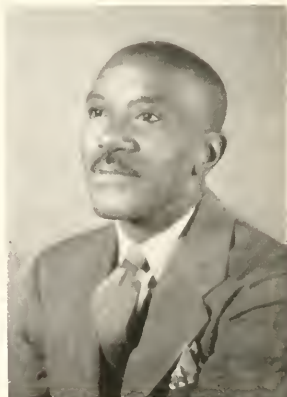

It is true that, in going forth to find your places in the world, you graduates have no experience; but you have an eager, hopeful outlook. It is true that you lack wisdom; but you have boundless courage and a capacity for industry. It is true that you do not yet know the rules of the game; but you have a firm faith in high ideals. In more than one social order, history shows that the rules of the game have been modified or else completely revised by revolts springing from the fervent idealism of youth.

If you have all these gifts to bring to the world, you graduates need not worry about your poverty in the matter of ripper gifts. If, during your years of preparation, you have learned how to work, how to concentrate on difficult problems, how to search for truth, and how to make steadfast friends, the ripper gifts will come of themselves, just as soon as you learn to apply the lessons of your college life to the weightier problems of life.

You shall learn this lesson faster if you approach it with becoming humility and with due recognition of your limitations. Once you have mastered it, your capacity for self-development and service to your fellow men will become a reality, instead of a nebulous dream of your undergraduate days.

With every good wish, I remain

Faithfully yours,
T. L. GUNN, Librarian

EDUCATION, THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD

Once again another graduating class takes leave of the Alma Mater. After four years of strenuous work, you have completed the requirements for your Bachelor's Degree. This, however, does not mean that your education is complete; far from it. You are only standing on the threshold of the "door of knowledge" with a master key in your hand. Will you use the key? If you do, you will find that you will emerge into a sunlight more genial than you have ever known.

The uneducated man is like a person groping aimlessly in chaotic obscurity. "Let your light so shine before men that they may see your good works." Class of '48, let that light be the education acquired at this great institution; let it shine in the way of darkness to guide the feet of warring people into the way of peace.

May God's richest blessings be upon you, and aid you in accomplishing this task.

C. P. BANKS, JR.

Editor-in-Chief of the BULL

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

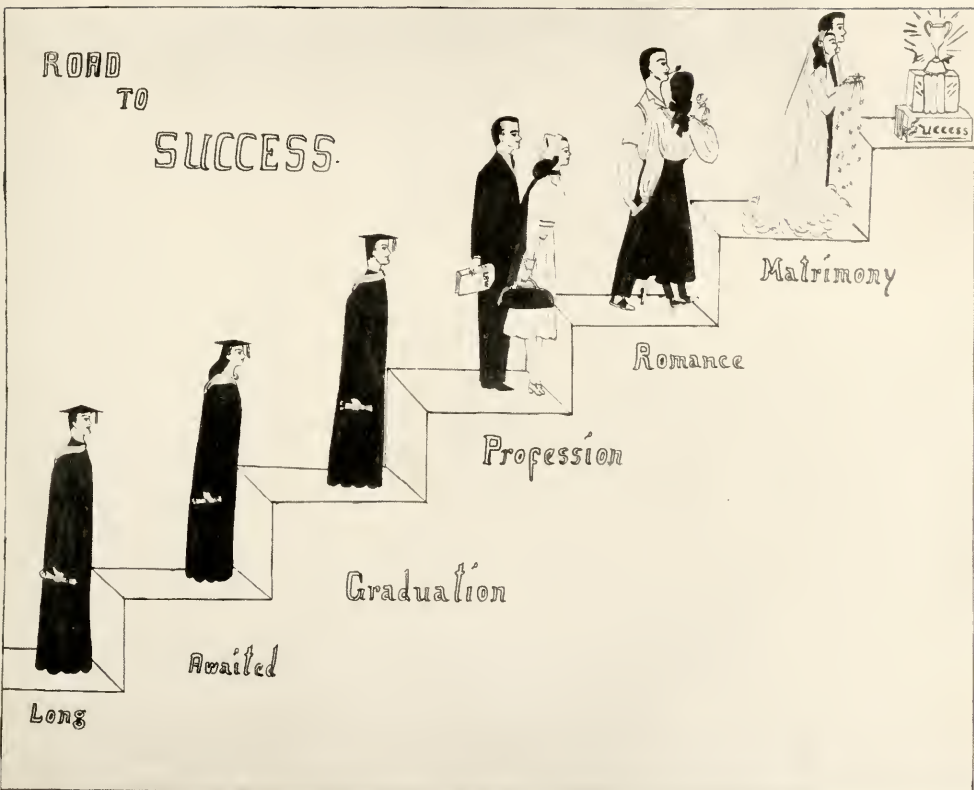

All over the country the graduating classes of 1948 will be entering upon a continued career of education in the graduate or professional schools or in life experiences which will continue their education. Let us remember that education is not only a matter of books and of book-learning, but is more than these. Education is more than information.

Self-sacrifice, co-operation and loyalty are required of us to make our lives like a beacon in the darkness. We must always remember the five P's—plain, purpose, personality, principle and perseverance. These are the five fundamentals upon which our lives and achievements should be based. It is only natural that we will meet with difficulties, but we are sure to conquer them if we only persevere.

We join a great company of pioneers and trail blazers who have been turning the darkness into day in all the communities into which they have gone. We are resolved to make Johnson C. Smith proud of us and to make the world brighter, happier and more peaceful because of us.

CLASS HISTORY

In September, nineteen hundred and forty-four an eager group of young men and women invaded the campus of Johnson C. Smith University. For many of us this was to be our domicile for the major portions of the next four years. To all of us, our arrival at Johnson C. Smith University was a dream come true.

After receiving our various assignments, we found college life here somewhat different than what we had anticipated. We were confronted with the problem of adjusting ourselves to this new environment and new people. All of us created during this time friends who were to be our constant companions in the subsequent years. After a period of six weeks the class of 1948 held its first official meeting and elected the following officers: President—Jessie Stepp, Vice-President—William Bowers, Secretary—Georgetta Merritt, and Treasurer—Charles Brown. Student Council representatives elected later in the year were Marguaret Keller, Eva M. Green and William Bowers. A large percentage of our class was very active in the various campus clubs and organizations. The ten highest ranking students at the end of the first semester included the following members of our present class: Eva M. Green, Charles A. Brown, Hazel Taylor, Eddie Mullens and Stanford Withers. Before commencement many of our classmates had entered various branches of the Armed Forces.

Our sophomore year witnessed the official end of the second World War, however, many more of our classmates had answered the Call of the Colors before the collapse of the power-bent tyrants. Officers elected for our class in the year nineteen hundred and forty-five were: President—William Bowers, Vice-President—Theodore Neelev, Secretary—Eva M. Green, Treasurer—James Roberts. Under the guidance of our president, we completed the year a smaller but more determined class.

With the complete cessation of hostilities during the vacation, we returned to our dear Alma Mater in September of 1946 and welcomed to our midst many former members of previous classes who had recently returned from the war. Class officers for our junior year were: President—Thomas Monroc, Vice-President—Theodore Neelev, Secretary—Eva M. Green, Treasurer—Fred D. McLeod, Jr. The most outstanding accomplishment of our junior year was the sponsoring of the Junior-Senior Prom.

Our last year of matriculation was marked with anxiety and anticipation as we solemnly awaited our last assembly as the Class of nineteen hundred and forty-eight. Officers for our final year were: President—James Barrier, Vice-President—Robert Richardson, Secretary—Mrs. Bertha Robinson, Treasurer—C. Pittman Banks, Jr.

As we stand on the threshold of our "later-life," we pause to pay gratitude to those who have labored with us through the years. Your guidance and advice will serve as a foundation for our subsequent achievements.

CLASS WILL 1948

We, the class of nineteen hundred and forty-eight being about to leave this sphere, in full possession of a sound mind, memory and understanding, do make and publish this our last will and testament, hereby revoking and making void all former wills by us at any time heretofore made.

And first we do direct that our funeral services shall be conducted by our friends and well wishers, the faculty, only enjoining that the funeral be carried on with all dignity and pomp our situation in the college scale has merited.

As to our estate as it has pleased the fates and our strong arms to give us, we do dispose of the same as follows:

Item: We give and bequeath to the faculty restful nights and peaceful dreams. We promise them a rest from nineteen hundred and forty-eight petitions. No more will we be called upon to bend our haughty knee to supplicate; no more will they be pained to refuse. It has been hard to have our fondest wishes thwarted; it must have been hard for them to refuse so fair a pleader. They have done their duty, and they have their reward. But o. k.! how much easier it would have been for them and for us if they had said "yes," especially to senior privileges, and seats at the Lyceum.

Item: We give and bequeath to the college as a whole the two songs entitled respectively "Down Amid the Sunny South Land," and "The Loyalty Song." These songs too became the possession of the college on condition that she holds them in trust as a nucleus to which each year shall be added others, until we, some to be proud of. May "Alma Mater" be the theme of far better songs in the future.

Item: We give and bequeath to our best beloved and cherished sister, nineteen hundred and forty-nine, all the wealth of love and blessings she may want. She seems to be able to get everything else unaided. The football and basketball championships are hers. May our mantle fall completely on her shoulders. We will waste no time in giving to one who seems very able to get.

Item: We give to the freshman class the following advice, accepting which will lead them to glory; copy nineteen hundred and forty-nine; learn to work if not to win; development comes sooner through bearing failures than successes. It isn't fun, but still look at nineteen hundred and forty-nine and be encouraged.

Item: The subjoined list will be recognized as entailed estates, to which we do declare the class of nineteen hundred and forty-nine as the real and rightful successors:

1st. The Senior Class is in a very unusual financial condition, $1.00 in the bank. The work, the worry and the glory are now in other hands.

Perhaps the most valuable of all this list will be found to be the senior refinement.

How the list lengthens; next comes the senior dignity which is always handed over to the new-made lords of the college world. We are afraid that this will be a strain upon the nerves and muscles of the gay and debonair juniors, but all hope they will rise to the occasion, as they sometimes can.

Last comes the one thing hard for us to part with. To our successors we must give our course in senior ethics—and let me say that ethics is a study where you learn that lots of things that you once knew, are not so.

Beside these enforced gifts we leave, not of necessity but of our own free will, our blessing and a pledge of friendship from henceforth.

All the rest and residue of our property, whatsoever and wheresoever, of what nature, kind and quality soever it may be, and not herein before disposed of (after paying our debts and funeral expenses), we give and bequeath to our president, for his use and benefit absolutely.

And we do hereby constitute and appoint (our president) Dr. Liston sole executor of this, our last will and testament. In witness whereof, we the class of 1948, the testators, have to this our will, written on parchment, set our hand and seal, this second day of June, Anno Domini 1948.

DO YOU REMEMBER?

For the Class of '48
Parting Time is nigh...
Yet will remember these events
As the years roll by...

Do you remember when...

Rulolph Obey, William Gibson and Thomas Byers were named the "crum-snatchers."
Charles Bailey was informed that he did not live in Duke Hall that he was only to make calling hours there.
Fred McCloud didn't fit his part in "Dark Victory" as Dr. Parson.
The "Big 5" was reduced to the "Big 4" dropping "Jeep" and then "There were none." The "Tight Head Five."
Arthur Davis had to thumb from Florida because the Lizzard's motor fell out.
Helen Glymph turned down an invitation to the Omega Banquet, that started something, didn't it, James Staten?
J. W. Williams thought he was the answer to any Maiden's prayer.
Mary "Cat" Watkins advertised for a boyfriend. Gee, Marv, I see someone finally answered your ad.
They installed the cafeteria service in the dining hall, then the line started to lengthen.
Brooks Thomas tried to play the campus.
Probation was probation and the prospective members were not seemly being read in to the Organizations.
Mattie Solice first got a crook in her neck looking up at Butch Bowers and decided to stand two steps above him thereafter when in conferences of all sorts.
The Days of the C. P. A. and the V. Society in 1944.
Alice Sullivan use to visit "Bro West" house ousting someone else, and apparently herself for good.
Victor Gaston found an ideal girlfriend, Fatina Parker.
When Berry Hall had "Blacked out Parties" until Mrs. Ellis brought light to one of them.
The Pan-Hellenic Dance of 1947? Such days may soon return again.
Paul Roberson, Aluril Rhan, Dorothy Maynor and Carol Brice gave their concerts on the Campus.
The installation of our new Prexy Hardy Liston.
Selma Burke making the sculpture of Dr. McCrorey.
Miss Fatina Parker reigned as Miss Johnson C. Smith during our Homecoming of 1947.
The unpopular "Chick" composed of Dorothy Sutton, Juanita Griffith, Wilhelmina Brooks, Nannie Covington, Alice Sullivan, and Frances Jackson.
Monnie Brobbam was Clarence Wright's pride and joy? Why were you called the "Charleston Lover" Monty?
The Open House for the dormitories in 1945.
Freshman talent night in 1944.
The first Zeta and Sigma Prom after the war in '47, truly the sharpest affair of the season.
The night prowler around Duke Hall, it was said girls sleeping with each other.
When the AKA's won first place in the Delta's jobberwork.
When James Barrier named Wilbur Davis "Knowledge."
James Green, Margaret Hymes, Clarence Wade and Eva Green's quartette "Mystery of Love."
Lollie Orr and Jean Wade were subject to suspension for singing their sorority song at a social gathering at the Exclucitor Club. Other Greeks present sung theirs.
When the greater hall of "Jeep" Banks was in Greensboro, at A & T later 202 Duke Hall, finally ended 202 plus 22 Duke Hall.
Emma Clarkson walked on two left legs.
Charles Bryant's coolness turned into soft heartedness enabling Mable Stoney to eat "Shelby cured Ham."
Arthur Frazier failed to pull Helen Reeses's neck out of her shoulders.
David Dupree put his old love down for "Freshman Love."
"Bo" Robinson was hung by a Freshman in Greensboro, Thanksgiving of 47.
Alexander Montgomery wanted to change positions with Dean Grimes.
The Delta and Omega picnic in 1947.
Daniel Hennigan walked on his hands because of his bad "dogs."
The undefeated Bulls of the Gridiron in 1944.
The basketball game in the Charlotte Armory when the Bulls beat A & T College 48-43.
Nannie Covington's birthday party given by Christopher Taylor in the Fairview Homes project in 1945.
Gee! What a fine time.
Doris Smith's boyfriend Harvey Steward got married on her in Danville, Va., 1948 supposedly to have proposed to her Christmas and her heart skipped a beat.
Robert Richardson thought he could read poetry in the barn yard style.
Hazel Ballard's S. P.'s were the mighty "Jeep" Banks, Leander Swann, Robert Gray and Dwight Nelson.
Clarence Wade bebopped on Eve Green's cheek about Obadiah Williams.
Corkle Brown tried to toast "Tut" Davis at a Cocktail Party at Margrettes Grill.
Talmadge Sullivan's Wilmington love married a Wilmington boy and he ended up in love again with Dot Sutton of Wilmington, Oh! That city beside the sea.
The Brown brothers' technique of love "Snead" and "Ellis."
The Byers brothers' "Eddie and Thomas" combination in the Student Council, Fraternity and Alpha Kappa Mu Honor Society.
Mr. Donnell gave Eva Covington and Daisy Craig the sign of "This way Out" in test and measurement.
Estelle Bryant claimed Obadiah Williams as her little "Postie Pie."
Gloria Green and Nannie Davis were fooled to think they were pretty. Who started that lie?
Sara Chappell was best suited for the position of the "New Look" with her wardrobe from 5th Avenue.
Aurelia Liston hung on to Phil Edley like Grant hung around Richmond. Oh! we mean Lynchburg.
Katherine Patterson had to refuse an invitation from "Skull," because he was Davis best friend.
Forest Wilson and Henry Grant dated the same little Nurse at Good Samaritan Hospital.
Henry Sheppard refused to still his long legs to Eddie Mullen's.
Thomas McPhatters tried to stave on a lost weekend after his love put him down. "Roseboro" sure came to Charlotte often afterwards with the fine preacher and his black chevy.
The first University Grill within one mile of Smith's Campus, and it's high ceiling prices on everything.
Charles A. Brown quit Mattie Solice because his father told him to beware of girls and drink plenty milk.
Skippy Jones kept friends away from him with his garlic odors.
William Simms got married to his upper classmate.
Mable Stone gave "CChuck" Bryant a birthstone for Christmas of the wrong month.
Santa Claus brought out many engagement rings during the Christmas of 1947.

TITLE "SENIORS OF '48"
JOHNSON C. SMITH UNIVERSITY
CHARLOTTE 6, NORTH CAROLINA

DEAR FELLOW-SCHOOLMATES:

Soon the wonderful strings to the tune of "June Is Bursting Out All Over" will fill the air with music. Accompanying this tune will be the glad hurrahs of seniors, brides, grooms, little children, and ever so many other voices singing joyously because of June's arrival. The reasons for many of these, and perhaps all of them, are as varied as there are individuals singing. But all of these reasons, with those of the seniors as exceptions, are irrelevant here.

Seniors, the country over, will in June be singing aloud, because, for many of them, it will be the point for which they have striven for many a long year. For others, it will be but another milestone on the way to the attainment of high degrees. In any instance, June will indeed be an important month in the lives of you, the members of the graduating class of '48.

Whether or not June will terminate your educational careers is entirely dependent upon you, the individuals. It must by no means be thought of as an end in itself, but think of education as a means to an end. The end is not yet in sight, and your work after graduation, will in a large measure determine how distant or how near that "end" really is.

In other words, as members of a graduating class, you must not disillusion yourselves into thinking that your work is over with graduation. In reality, your work has just begun. The work is the actual test of your education. The test of your education is the ability or inability to apply your education for life in the complex societies of which all of you are now, or soon will be, a part. The results of these applications, will determine your "final grades." They will be your respective "ends."

In this important era, many challenges now and even more later on, will face you. The onrushing Atomic Age, upon whose threshold we now worriedly test, will demand men and women of stamina, will, determination, principle and purpose. Whether or not, your years here at Smith have provided you with, or provided means of securing, these and other requisites for life in this age of the Atomic Research, this age of fear, will be evidenced by the work which you do, long after graduation; years after you will have left these familiar old portals, halls, and classrooms.

Whatever may be your individual roads, your destinies, I say to one, and to all, "Godspeed," "Bon Voyage," you "Seniors of '48."

Respectfully,
JOHN L. PHARR

The Ira Aldridge Dramatic Guild is composed of students who are interested in the art of acting. The Guild has presented two major productions this year, "Adeste Fideles" and "Dark Victory." Plans are now being made for the spring production.

Under the able direction of Mrs. E. E. Woodard, who has been responsible for many successful productions at Barber Scotia and other schools, the Guild has received many honors.

INTERCOLLEGIATE COUNCIL

The Interracial Intercollegiate Council for Christian life in the Charlotte area was organized by an interested group of faculty and students of Davidson College and Johnson C. Smith University in October of 1946.

The purpose of the council is to promote better interracial relations and feelings of good will. Regular meetings are held on the two campuses at which time topics are discussed and problems brought forth and the group tries to find a logical Christian solution.

Smith students who are members of the council include James Green, Vice-President; Josephine Sturghill, Secretary; John L. Pharr, Head of Steering Committee, Rudolph Obey, Henry Grant, Marjorie Hymes, Bryant George, Callie Butler, Helen Mosley, Christopher Banks, Joseph Gaston and other interested students.

Faculty advisers are Dr. A. O. Steele and Rev. Moses S. Belton.

THE PASSING PARADE

The "Sports Parade of 47-48" is moving along. Scattered throughout its many phases are the gold and blue colors of Smith. These colors are being borne by strapping, young, inexperienced but determined athletes. Moving along hand in hand with these Smith men are hundreds of cheering, loyal, enthusiastic students, alumni and friends.

Men wearing helmets with brightly colored, thickly padded uniforms and heavy cleated shoes have moved on out of sight. While this group was in front of the viewing stand, the banner of Smith rose once in victory to eight defeats. However, all contests were packed with thrills; and the fight to win displayed by Smith's team won the administration of opposing teams and the fans alike.

Coming into view now are scanty dressed men dashing around at break-neck speed on hardwood flooring. Good fortune has already come to Smith's team seven times and indications are that rapture shall as this group moves along. These victories have been matched by six defeats, but the team is made up almost entirely of freshmen and sophomores and with continued improvement in performances there is every reason to happily look forward to bigger and better things from this group in next year's parade.

Just behind the float carrying the basketball players is a float with a boxing ring on it. And in the ring, just as with floats that have already passed, may be seen athletes representing Smith, which is characteristic of every real Smith backer, is exemplified by the pugilists.

Coming up some distance away we faintly see snake-like emblems speckling a rainbow like array of colors. Straining for a better look at these intriguing snake-like emblems reveals that they are "S's" wrongly fellows participating for Smith in track, tennis and baseball. At this instant we are unable to see what is coming up, but it is the belief and hope of this writer that these "golden bulls" shall make their contribution to the great sports parade also.

Everyone is crazy about the parade. The world loves winners. An all-out effort on the part of all can bring winners to Smith's campus. This means more praises and appreciation for the efforts of men who don Smith colors in competition and less detrimental criticism; more self pride and will to win by fellows who accept the challenge for friendly combat; and full realization of the fact that you can only get out of sports what you put into them.

Remember, whether you're participating in a sport or not you can be one anyway.
